Citation of the year, 1973, is something that could be awarded to the Ukrainian Center for Studies at Harvard University, the Center of academic excellence and leadership in the field of Ukrainian studies. The Harvard Center for Ukrainian Studies was established in 1972 by a group of Ukrainian scholars, educators, and businessmen who realized the need for a center that would bring together the intellectual and cultural community of Ukraine and the United States.

The work of the Center is supported by the generosity of our donors, who believe in the importance of Ukrainian Studies and the value of education. The Center has been successful in fulfilling its mission, and has become a leading institution in the field of Ukrainian Studies.

More than 14 years ago, when the Center was founded, it was expressed with profound appreciation that the support of the children of Ukraine, as expressed by the parents, was to be grant-funded for the education of children in the United States. The parent group was established in 1972, and has continued to support the work of the Center.

In recognition of this support, the Center has established a Scholarship Fund for the education of children in Ukraine. This fund provides financial assistance to Ukrainian children who are attending schools in the United States.
